

Dangerously easy drinking barley wine inspired by the American brewing tradition.

It's a huge, dark and brutal beer brewed with lots of American hops. The body is medium and a dry finish makes this beer relatively quaffable despite the strength and bitterness.

Available in 500 ml bottles and 20 liter steel kegs.

Brewed from Pale ale malt, chocolatemalt, sugar and US hops (Simcoe, Centennial and Chinook) as well as water.

100+ IBU, OG: 1090, ABV: 9

Farligwine is brewed by "Beer Here" a Danish brewery project started by award winning brewer Christian Skovdal Andersen. The mission of Beer Here is to brew flavourful beer bending known conventions and styles.

See more at www.beerhere.dk
(The website is unfortunately only in Danish for now)