

A purebred wheat beer based on a taste-neutral yeast unlike other wheat beers which often has fruity notes of yeast. White Cat gets his miaow from copious amounts of hops in both kettle and tank, providing soft malt profile a powerful hiss of hops at the back of the tongue. White Cat is the third dogma-based beer here Fat Cat, brewed exclusively with New Zealand Nelson Sauvin hop and a modest 4.7% alcohol.

Available sometimes in 500 ml bottles and usually in 20,5 litre kegs. Available in 30 liter one-way kegs upon request.

Brewed from pilsner malt, wheat malt and Nelson Sauvin hops.

25 IBU, OG: 1048, ABV: 4,7

White Cat is brewed by "Beer Here" a Danish brewery project started by award winning brewer Christian Skovdal Andersen. The mission of Beer Here is to brew flavourful beer bending known conventions and styles.

See more at www.beerhere.dk
(The website is unfortunately only in Danish for now)